Joy Memorial Dedication. Chaplain C. C. McCabe, D. D., of New York City will be present at the dedi-zatory services of the Joy Momorial M. E. church, West Broadway and West Fulton streets, tomorrow. The edifice to be dedicated is a beautiful one, containing a main auditorium, from which opens the lecture room and church pariors. It is so arranged that these rooms can be used in connection with the auditorium in case the addi-tional room is needed. These services will be interesting, not only on account of the presence of Chaplain McCabe and other representative clargymen, but because of the memories which will undoubtedly be revived at the time. Chaplain McCabe will present in Hartman ball at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and speak in the church morning and evening. Dr. McCabe is well known in this city.

Laches of City Claimants.

Comptreller Vandenberge said yesterday that business men had become very lax is the transaction of financial matters with his office. Frequently money orders for work or supplies were left in the office for months at a time by the merchants, contractors and others to whom the money was due. There are some orders in the office at present which have been there for three and four menths. Parties doing business with the city will save themselves, the city treasurer and the comptroller much valuable time by doing the business in a prompt and systematic way.

Officially Postponed.

The boardof police and fire commit The board of police and fire commis-cioners wases to announce to the various municipal boards and officials who had been invited to attend the an-musi review of the police and fire de-partments that it has been thought best owing to the inclemency of weather to postpone the review one week from today. The procession will start at 1 o'clock sharp on Saturday afternoon, June II, from the corner of Shawmut avenue and Summer street.

Dragged in the Mud. A horse attached to a wagon driven by Con Deuhonter became frightened near the corner of East Bridge and near the corner of East Bridge and Scribner streets yesterday morning and ran away, throwing the driver under the wheels and dragging him some distance. He received severe in-juries in the right shoulder and log, but no bones were broken. He was taken to his home, No. 326 Henry street, in the ambulance.

Broke His Leg.

John Youngs, a colored boy aged 18, was taken to the U. R. A. home yester day. He fell from a shed on which he was working last Wednesday and broke his leg.

"This rain is just beginning to affect freights," said C. E. Leavenworth, general freight agent for the G. E. & L.

yesterday. "We didn't begin to notice it until a few days ago. Since the first of the week shipments have decreased perceptibly. Lumber is the principal article affected. It is too wet to load it and so men won't by to ship."

The south part of the city was enthe south part of the city was entirely under water yesterday. The G. R. & I. switches and bridges at the plaster mills were covered to a depth of two feet. A gardener who attempted to drive across the creek missed the bridge, which was under water, and he and his horse and wagon were swept down the stream. They were all rescued after a hard struggle.

Mr. Harrington is one of the best-known, as he one of the most excellent barbers in the city, and his reminisnent men of Boston who have frequent ed his shop would make a very inte-resting story. At present Mr. Harrington is receiving congratulations of his friends. For al-most 10 years he has most 10 years he has carried a cane continuously, and has frequently and has frequently the aid of a crutch. It was in November last that his crutch disappeared, and soons afterwards he went about his work and walked to and from his shop without the aid of a cane. Yesterday he told a Globe reporter that he didn't expect to have to use them again.

porter that he didn't expect to have to use them again.

"I have done more work myself since November," said Mr. Harrington, "than I had done before for two years. I'll tell you about it. Ten years ago I began to have rheumatism, and for 10 years I suffered with it. I was laid up in bed as often as once in six weeks, and up to last September I had been attended by all kinds of physicians, had tried electricity and all manner this gas but always without any pet and it relief. I could not stand on my feet long at a time, and had to leave my business principally to my men.

had to leave my business principally to my men.

"In November, for the first time, I began to take Paine's celery compound. I had taken just four bottle when I was able to walk and work like a new man. I left my crutch at home and dropped my cane, and I leave it to you if I don't look like a well man."

It is not flattery to say that Mr. Harrington would never be suspected of ever having carried a crutch in his life. A year ago, as scores of prominent business men know, he was a very different looking man. He was laid up so long about that time that his friends used to anxiously inquire for him.

used to anxiously inquire for him.
"Today," said Mr. Harrington, "I am a well man, and Paine's celery compound has cured me. I freely recommend every one similarly affected to "My friends ask me what I have been doing that I am so 'smart,' and I am glad to tell them that I have been tak-ing Paine's celery compound. A numing Paine's celery compound. A number of my customers are now taking it on my recommendation and it is doing them good. I shall be pleased to see anyone who is suffering with rheumatism at my place of business, and shall be glad to answer their questions. A well-known insurance man who had overheard a part of the conversation, told the Globe reporter that he remembered the day he first met Mr. Harrington last winter, walking without his cane, and remarked that he was so interested in the case that he had taken home a bottle of Paine's celery compound to a member of his family, who had chronic rheumatism. "It has, we believe, completely cured her. We are never without it in the house."

Pane's celery compound is an honest remedy. It is not a patent medicine. It is taken by the rich and the poor. It is prescribed by physicians. Medical journals have reported time and again the cures it has effected. There has been this spring an unprecedented demand for it. As Mr. Harrington says, it is doing good.
